POETICAL.

THE ADVENT OF SPRING.

When brighter suns and milder skies
Proclaim the opening year,
What various sounds of joy arise!
What prospects bright appear!

Earth and her thousand voices give
Their thousand notes of praise;
And all, that by His mercy live,
To God their offering raise.

Forth walks the laborer to his toil,
And, sees the fresh array
Of verdure clothe the flowery soil
Along his careless way.

The streams, all beautiful and bright,
Reflect the morning sky;
And there, with music in his flight,
The wild bird soars on high.

Thus, like the morning, calm and clear,
That saw the Savior rise,
The spring of heaven's eternal year
Shall dawn on earth and skies.

No winter there, no shades of night,
Profane those mansions blessed,
Where in the happy fields of light,
The weary are at rest.

Miscellaneous.

An Oil Romance.

Some ten or twelve years ago, a boy and girl, as is often the case, were among the scholars going to school in one of the townships a few miles east of Meadville. The boy, as boys always are, was rather dull and stupid, getting, as a natural consequence, many a scolding, while the girl was very apt, and helped him with his lessons, as girls always will. He was very grateful, of course, and promised to repay her some day, "when he got to be a man." Notwithstanding this strange promise, time passed on as usual, and when he got to be a man the war broke out and he enlisted.

In the meantime, the parents of the girl that was, the woman now, having become very poor, she was obliged to support herself, so obtaining a place in a good family, she came to Meadville to work. Last summer the young man was wounded and came home. Just before his return to the army, having re-enlisted, he told her that he might, probably, never return; that he had never forgotten the promise made in his boyhood's days, and he now wished in some manner to fulfill it; that he had not much to offer; only the third interest in three acres of land on Oil Creek; that he could not tell whether it would ever be worth anything, but whether it was or not she might have it and welcome. The gift was accepted and the papers properly made out before he left.

About six weeks ago, the other two owners of the land having gone on to develop the territory, a forty barrel well was struck, and she was at once offered $40,000 for her interest, one acre of land. The first intimation the family where she is living had of her good fortune was last week, when the gentleman, who, by the way, lives in one of the finest houses in the upper end of town, having mentioned that he had been offered $10,000 for his property, was very much astonished when she made him the same offer, and said if the house was sold she wanted to buy it as a home for her parents. Thinking surely she must be "daft," he made some inquiries, when the facts were found out, as stated above.

If she doesn't "put on airs," and marries the soldier boy when he comes back from the wars, the story will be finished in the good old fashioned way, and we will duly notify our readers of the sequel.

SLAVERY IN TENNESSEE.—The message submitted by Gov. Brownlow, to the General Assembly of Tennessee, which met on the third of April, strikingly illustrates the progress of anti-slavery sentiments in that State. Four years ago, Brownlow, though strikingly devoted to the Union, was yet decidedly opposed to abolition and emancipation. Now he recommends to the Legislature to ratify the constitutional amendment "so as to strike down the monster institution which has embroiled the Government for half a century, and culminated in the most wicked, uncalled-for and bloody war ever known in the history of the civilized world." Both Houses of the Legislature promptly responded to the Governor's recommendation by unanimously ratifying the constitutional amendment.

Gen. Schofield's "Joy Gun."

Soon after our forces occupied Wilmington, a stalwart, intelligent negro called at General Schofield's headquarters and asked to see the General.—He was shown into the room, when his mission was made known. He had gathered together hundreds of stout men and marched them from the interior, by night, through the thickets, swamps and forests. Not knowing whether our forces were yet in Wilmington, he left the men behind and scouted through himself, promising them that if the "Union men were in Wilmington, he would ask the General to fire a joy gun, when they were all to come in and join him." "And, now, General," the negro said, "I find you good Union folks all here, and it makes my heart jump for joy, and won't you have the big gun fired?—Oh, master, it will make my poor old mother cry when she hears that joy gun, and all the men will be glad, and join your army." General Schofield promised him that his "joy gun" should be fired, and the man went out, waiting to hear its echo through the pine forests and hills. The General ordered one of the heaviest pieces of artillery in the fort to be fired.

That "joy gun" was fired, its echo is still ringing through those forests, and over those sandy plains. It was a joyful sound to those hunted fugitives, secreted in the swamps about the city. It called them from their hiding places, and in hundreds they came, and with strong arms, and what is better still, with joyful hearts—hearts willing and anxious to do what little they could for the power that had broken off their chains, and freed them from the shackles of their taskmasters. They are enrolling their names to day, on the recruiting lists of this great army of freemen, and clad in blue, and with Yankee muskets, they will be foremost in the grand army, now marshaling for the death struggle.

That gun, that was a joyful messenger to them, was heard by hundreds of others, fleeing from the advancing armies of the Union. It did not call them in, however. It quickened their step and carried them farther away from the powers they dared not meet. Their arms were full as strong and able to do duty for the old flag, but their hearts were bitter in their hatred of that flag. In this they differ. One was black, the other was white. One was loyal, the other disloyal. The joy gun rallied one class about the flag, while it drove the other from it. Other joy guns are being fired. The hills and valleys of North Carolina are echoing to the sound of thousands of them. They are joy guns to one class, while they ring with despair for another.—Wilmington, Cor. Cin. Commercial.

MR. LINCOLN'S SELF-DEVOTION.—The memories of the countless noble words and deeds of the Martyr-President, already begin to flow in thick upon us. We read the glowing words—alas! that they are now made prophetic!—with which he raised the flag over Independence Hall on Washington's Birthday, four years ago. On that memorable occasion, looking forward to the official responsibilities and the personal perils that were before him, he uttered these remarkable words:

"I have often inquired of myself what great principle or idea it was that kept this Confederacy so long together. It was something in the Declaration of Independence giving liberty not only to the people of this country, but to the world for all future time. It was that which gave promise that in due time the weights should be lifted from the shoulders of all men, and that all should have an equal chance. * * * * * * *

* * * Now, my friends, can this country be saved upon that basis?—If it can, I will consider myself one of the happiest men in the world if I can help to save it. But if this country cannot be saved without giving up that principle—I was about to say I would rather be assassinated upon this spot than to surrender it.

Who Makes Money in Oil.

The following humorous oration on this subject, from a hotel proprietor in the oil regions, is too forcible and true to be lost:—

"Why haven't I made money in oil? Some men are meant to make money in oil—they're cut out for it and nothing else. They were intended for it. What sort of a man is it that makes money in oil? I'll tell you. One of your tearing, ripping sort of fellows, such as will go their whole pile on any kind of a hand—men that will look at a piece of ground, scrape it with a stick, smell the end, swear 'there's oil there,' and slap down a hundred and fifty thousand dollars on the counter and have the deed signed before the owner knows where he is. That's your sort that makes money in oil, or burst up higher'n the crows fly. Now I never could risk my bottom dollar on a spec, and balance everlasting poverty against a pile of greenbacks.—Chances! Of course I had chances. In 1860 I was owner of wells, and the oil gushed out of them like greasy Niagaras. Then the market was overstocked, oil went down to thirty—twenty-five—fifteen cents a barrel—yes, to ten cents! Men who agreed to find barrels for half the oil threw up the contracts. A man would perhaps stay with me, say in the morning, 'Major, I'm dead broke; give me thirty dollars and I'll give you an oil well.' Then I'd see one of the children run half frightened to death into the next room, and hear it holler—'Mother! mother! father's buying another oil well!' Then there'd come a rap—rap—tapping on the partition from inside, and that bargain would be broke off—in a hurry. So then I came over here. This tavern's my oil well, gentlemen, and the barroom's my derrick."

The National Debt.

There were imported into the United States, in the year ending with June, 1864, as follows:

	Official value.
Spirituous liquors	$ 6,369,075
Spirituous do. remaining in warehouse	20,435,000
Total	$28,804,075
Deduct exports	1,561,438
Total domestic consumption	$27,242,637

On this table the Tribune concludes that, as the cost of Whisky, our principal liquor, was then under twenty-five cents per gallon, the aggregate of liquors consumed in this country cannot have fallen short of one hundred millions of gallons, which at the present rate of duty, would afford a revenue of two hundred millions per annum. But suppose the duty to diminish consumption by one-fourth, and that illicit distillation or smuggling should subtract an equal amount, the revenue from distilled liquors, after the present stock is consumed, cannot be less than one hundred millions per annum.

Of tobacco, we produced in 1859-60 no less than 429,300,770 pounds, besides importing cigars, etc., to the valur of $6,079,909. We exported this staple to the value of $16,905,547; so that our exports of tobacco cannot have exceeded our imports by much over one hundred millions of pounds, and we must have consumed at least three hundred millions. Supposing fifty millions of this to escape the payment of duty, and the residue to pay an auerage of forty cents per lb., the revenue from this source alone will amount to another $100,000,000.

These two items of income will pay the interest on a national debt of three thousand millions of dollars, (which is more than we shall ever owe,) and afford a surplus for a sinking fund which will rapidly and certainly eat up the principal of the debt, leaving all other sources of revenue for the support of the Government and the discharge of its current liabilities.

THE DIFFERENCE.—Uncle Sam has a neighbor who was in the habit of working on Sunday, but after a while he joined the church. One day he met the minister to whose church he belonged. "Well, Uncle Sam," said he, "do you see any difference in Mr. P. since he joined the church?" "Oh yes," said Uncle Sam, "a great difference. Before, when he went out to mend his fences on Sunday, he carried his axe on his shoulder, but now he carries it under his overcoat!"

FRIENDS.—Josh Billings says of friends: "I got mine and manage to keep them by not asking them for anything but advice; you can't ask anything of a man that he loves to give more, and costs him less than advice.

Managing A Husband.

"How do you manage your husband, Mrs. Croaker? Such a job as I have with Smith."

"Easiest thing in the world, my dear; give him a twitch backward when you want him to go forward.—For instance you see, to-day I had a loaf of cake to make.

"Well, do you suppose because my body is in the pastry room, my soul need be there too? Not a bit of it. I am thinking of all sorts of celestial things all the while.

"Now, Croaker has a way of lagging down at my heels, and clinging me plump down in the middle of my aerial flights, by asking me the price of the sugar I am using.

"Well, you see it drives me frantic, and when I woke up this morning, and this furious storm I knew I had him on my hands for the day, unless I managed right, so I told him I hoped he wouldn't go out to catch his death this weather, that if he was not capable of taking care of himself, I should do it for him, that it was very lonesome rainy days, and that I wanted him to stay at home and talk to me; at any rate he musn't go out, and I hid his umbrella and India rubbers. Well, of course he was right up (just as I expected,) and in less than ten minutes was streaking down the street at the rate of ten miles an hour.

"You see there is nothing like understanding human nature; no girl should get married till she is thoroughly posted up in this branch of education."

Wheat Prospects.

The Alton Telegraph says the growing wheat since the opening of spring is coming up finely, and the prospects for an abundant crop are excellent.

The Coldwater (Mich.) Sentinel says that wheat, in all parts of the country, shows to good advantage since the disappearance of the snow. However, wheat was generally sowed late, and the slight [illegible] will render it more liable to be [illegible] slight freezing of the [illegible]

A correspondent informs the Bucks County Intelligencer that the winter grain looks fine, as the winter has favored it. He trusts that "the fly" has received its quietus. The prospect for grass is not so flattering; on many wheat stubble fields the clover was entirely destroyed by the dry weather last summer, and in some fields there is neither clover nor timothy.—In many such cases the ground will be ploughed up for corn this spring. A good peach crop is looked for, and the production of this fruit will probably be increased in that region.

OCEAN TIDES.—A number of empty bottles have been thrown into the sea on the west coast of Africa, and have been picked up on the Irish coast.—One has been found after 16 years, another after 14, and a third after 10 years. One was thrown into the Caribean Sea, and after five days was picked up 210 miles distant. A bottle was thrown in at Behring's Straits, and 200 days afterwards was found on the Honduras coast, having traveled 3,500 miles.

☞ Many of the rebel prisoners at Elmira, New York, were marked to be exchanged by order. Those who wished, of certain States, to be exchanged, were ordered to sign the paper, but of fifteen hundred, some two or three hundred refused entirely either to put down their names, (or rather marks, for two-thirds cannot write) or be exchanged at all.

NEWS ITEMS.

—A lady, going out from Vicksburg a few days since, excited the suspicion of an officer by the peculiarity of her manner, and upon being searched there was found in her shoes an accurate map of the fortifications of Vicksburg, location of arsenals, various headquarters of generals, and a full description of the various commissary and other public stores. She was arrested and taken back to Vicksburg.

—Some time ago Slidell, the rebel representative in Paris, gave a mortgage to a French banker for $60,000 upon his property in New Orleans.—The banker now claims the property under the laws of Louisiana, and a suit is to be instituted in the United States Court, and will be made a test case. Interesting and important legal points will be raised under the Confiscation act, the decision of which will govern similar cases hereafter.

—The Maryland Legislature has repealed nearly all the old acts of that State oppressive to the colored population which used to be so cruelly enforced. Among them were the laws "prohibiting meetings of negroes for religious purposes unless conducted by a white person;" "prohibiting trade with free negroes;" "prohibiting the navigation of vessels by negroes," and "prohibiting negroes from keeping a dog or a gun without a license."

—Three rebel armies have surrendered to Gen. Grant: that under Buckner, at Fort Donelson, on the 16th of February, 1862; that under Pemberton, at Vicksburg, on the 4th of July, 1863; and that under Gen. Lee, on the 9th of April, 1865. He is the only one of our generals who has ever induced a rebel army to surrender, and he has induced three of them.

—Gen. Pickett, who caused the execution of 28 loyal North Carolinians for the crime of having enlisted in the Union army, and who were captured at Plymouth last summer, is one of the officers embraced in Lee's surrender. Picket himself deserted to the rebel cause without the formality of having resigned his commission in the Federal service.

Agricultural.

A Few Maxims for Farmers.

1. The farmer who does not return to his fields a dressing more than equivalent to the crops gathered therefrom, is as unwise and thoughtless as he who would neglect to feed the horse that was to carry him on a journey. In both cases diminishing the ability of a faithful servant to minister to his wants.

2. The husbandman who obtains from a field not properly manured a small yield of grain, when by sufficient manuring he might have obtained a large one, is selling his labor at half its value.

3. In all cases keep the best products of your farm, whether grain or stock, for your own use, that improvement in each may result therefrom.—If three poor sheep will bring as much as one good one, keep the one and sell the three.

4. Do not permit the remains of animal or vegetable substances to decay about your dwelling, but incorporate them with the soil, or the compost heap, thereby securing the comfort and health of your family, and adding to the attraction of your home.

5. Having things "near enough" often causes much trouble. The headboard to farmer A's cart was a little too short, but it was "near enough," consequently it came out in passing over a jolt, and with it half the potatoes. The keys of Mr. B's wagon thills came out, and the wagon and horse got wrecked together in going down hill. The bar to C's cow pasture was too short, and yet he thought it "near enough,"—but it dropped out one day, and the cattle got through and destroyed his grain. It is better and cheaper in the end, even if it does take a little more time, to have things just right.

Clean Your Cellars.

If not already done, thoroughly purge this subterranean story of your house. Every decayed onion, cabbage stump, potato vine or tuber, turnip, parsnip, carrot, all the dirt they have made, and all straw and rubbish should be raked up and thrown out. The cellar is no place for them at any time of the year. If you still retain a few potatoes for table use let them be picked over and all decayed ones removed. One of the best housewives of our acquaintance greeted us not long since with an invitation to come and see her cellar. "I have swept down every cobweb, whitewashed the walls, swept up the floor, and sowed it with salt." Decayed vegetable matter is a fertile cause of disease, and there is enough of it out of doors in this country without heaping it up in the cellar for the special purpose, it would almost seem, of breeding fevers. Whitewash the walls, for lime purifies as well as beautifies. Sweep down the cobwebs—they are the infallible marks of a slattern. Salt destroys worms, etc. If your cellar is very dry and sandy, you may use salt without detriment; but if too damp it will make the matter worse.

Potatoes.

As a friend to a labor-saving process of raising potatoes, and all other products on which the farmer depends for his prosperity, I will give my plan for raising the above-named article: Plow the ground deep and harrow well; mark out in rows one foot square; cut your potatoes in small pieces, with one eye in each, being sure to cut deep so as to secure the vital part; plant three seeds in a hill; cover slightly with earth; then take old half rotten straw or hay, and cover the ground all over to the depth of four inches. The vines will soon grow up through this covering, and bind it from the wind. Having done this, there is nothing more to do till the fall, as the straw prevents the weeds from growing.—Cor. Exchange paper.

Cribbing in Horses.

There are various reasons assigned for this habit in horses. If you watch the horse in the operation, he will be seen to grip his teeth hard down on some solid substance. The action is, undoubtedly, caused by some unpleasant sensation about the mouth or throat. Various remedies have been suggested, but the only one which has proved effective is a strap buckled tightly around the throat, yet not so tightly as to obstruct the breathing, but sufficiently so to give pretty strong pressure. The trouble is not regarded as a very serious one, and on this account has not received the attention it otherwise would.

Musty Grain.

Grain that has been injured and become musty may be restored to nearly its original sweetness by pouring boiling water over it, and permitting it to stand till cool. The scum which arises to the surface of the liquid during the process of purification should be carefully removed. Unless the gluten of the grain has become chemically effected—which is rarely found to be the case, except in very old grain—every trace of mustiness will be removed, and the grain rendered fit for use.

Religious.

—Samson Occom a famous Indian minister, author of the hymn, "Awaked by Sinai's awful sound," while in London in 1765, to obtain contributions for Dartmouth College, wrote the following letter home to two members of his family at Norwich, Conn.: My Dear Mary and Esther: Perhaps you may query whether I am well; I came from Home well, was by the way well, I got over well, am received at London well, and am treated extremely well, yea, I am caressed too well. And do you pray that I may be well, and that I may do well, and in Time return Home well. And I hope you are well, and wish you well, and as I think you begin well so keep on well, that you may end well. And so Farewell.

—The Michigan Christian Herald contains a sermon of a Baptist minister in which these words are found: "The Baptist principle is the whole difference between Papists and Protestants. The Christian world has but two religions, the Baptists and the Pedo Baptists. Romanism is Pedo-Baptism matured in perfection. The Baptist faith is Bible truth in its purity, while other Protestant churches have a part of Romanism and a part of the truth as it is in the Bible. The tendency of the Pedo-Baptist churches is towards Rome."

—Strange to record, that while the Pope's Encyclical letter has been scoffed at by all great minds in the Roman Catholic community of Europe, it is, says a leading New York religious weekly, eminently disreputable and loathsome that Archbishop M'Closky, of New York, should be the first sycophant to profess subjection to the impious manifesto, and affirms that the Pope spoke by divine authority, and his words were to be received with humility and obedience.

—At a recent session of the U. P. Presbytery, of Butler, to the following query of a session, a negative was returned:

Can United Presbyterians consistently join in associations for religious worship, prayer meetings and the like, or a party to the same, when songs of praise other than the Psalms are used part of the time; and can they do so and be faithful witnesses to the truth as contained in the 18th Article of the Testimony of the United Presbyterian Church?

—Rev. Mr. Thomas, at the opening of the Supreme Court, at Manchester, N. H., made the following prayer:

"O Lord, we pray that thou wouldst bless the lawyers now before thee.—Grant, O Lord, that they may at all times speak the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; may they learn a lesson from the season, that life is short, and waste no precious time in circumlocution and windy declamation."

—The plan proposed to print a column of matter explanatory of the doctrines and discipline of the Presbyterian Episcopal Church, twice each week, in the Boston Traveller, in view of the alleged ignorance which exists in parts of New England with regard to the Protestant Episcopal Church, is, says the Presbyterian Banner, about the most unchurchly means of propagating churchism of which we have read for some time.

—Bishop Coxe, of the Western (Episcopal) Diocese of New York, in his sermon at the University, New York city, on the day for the Prayer for Colleges, took rather a gloomy view of the state of public morals. He thought the Metropolis was now more corrupt and corrupting than it was thirty years ago. He spoke of the ease with which men in high places take filthy bribes, and he said that judges in chancery had told him that it is hard to find the men to whom trusts may be confided with the assurance of safety.

—Forty years ago, in Goshen, Mass., five mothers agreed together that at the close of each day, in their own closets, they would devote the hour from nine to ten to a concert of prayer for their unconverted children.—Within six months three sons and a daughter of one of them, and some of the children of each of the others, were brought to Christ, and publicly professed his name.

—An interesting meeting was held last week in Brooklyn in behalf of the Protestants of Spanish America. There are signs that the number of those who are determined to leave the Church of Rome is rapidly increasing in each of the Spanish American States. The recent issue of an edict of toleration in Mexico gives to this movement a special importance.

—Zion's Herald reports revivals in Massachusetts at Monument, Chatham, Chester, and Lowell, with two hundred conversions at Monument. Half the number were heads of families. At Chatham, most of the converts were from middle life.

—The Board of Stewards of the Liberty street M. E. Church, of Pittsburg, Pa., have advanced their pastor's salary from $1200 to $1600, exclusive of house rent, $300 more.

THE BEAVER ARGUS.

May 3d, 1865.

☞ In consequence of the absence of both editors of this paper we are compelled to go to press without our usual variety of editorial and local matter. The senior editor is in Harrisburg on official business, and the junior is away on a wedding tour.—Both have, therefore, good excuses—the junior especially.

Surrender of Johnston.

We congratulate our readers this week upon the glorious and crowning victory of our armies. Gen. Johnston has surrendered his entire army to Gen. Skerman, on the basis agreed upon between Gen. Grant and Gen. Lee for the Army of Northern Virginia. This auspicious event, altho' since the surrender of Lee looked for, is yet somewhat of a surprise. After the mistake of Sherman we feared Johnston might be encouraged and emboldened to demand terms our Government would not grant, and the result would be that another battle would be fought and thousands of lives sacrificed. We are glad our fears were not realized. Johnston finding Gen. Grant was determined to hasten matters, wisely concluded to accept his terms, and surrendered to Sherman, who was the field commander. Coming as it does after the capture of Richmond, surrender of Lee, and evident overthrow of the Confederacy, but little noise is made about it. Two months since it would have electrified the country and astonished the world; now it creates no excitement, causes only a passing remark, and is regarded with less interest than the fight of Drainesville or West Virginia skirmishes in the early part of rebellion. Yet it is of momentous importance. Johnston was second to no man in the the Confederacy but Lee, and his army was almost the equal of the Army of Northern Virginia.

The surrender announces to the world that the South has given over rebellion, that the Independence of the Confederacy is unattainable, and that the country will remain undivided.—So far our work has been consummated. The settlement of vexed questions remains, but armed rebellion no longer does. We expect that the country will be annoyed for some time yet by guerrilla bands who will make treason the excuse of robbery. But order will soon be restored, and they will be dealt with as robbers and murderers, not as traitors.

When we remember the status of affairs three months ago, and compare with our present condition, we can hardly realize the fact that rebellion is over. Then the South had vast armies, a territory larger than embraced within the limits of most European nations, unconquered; a people apparently resolute, leaders firm and hopeful, and a defiant press. Can it be that a few weeks since the South indignantly rejected the terms of peace prepared by President Lincoln, and now they are compelled to accept whatever terms our Government may offer? How blinded a policy have they pursued! It is not more difficult to reconcile this fact to subsequent results than it is to account for the sudden conversion of wise Northern statesmen, who, a few months since, gravely argued the South could never be subdued, and who now witness what they announced as an impossibility, as if it were a natural consequent of their own teachings. But we do not desire to rekindle animosities or arouse prejudices. After four years of war the country is again to have peace—a lasting, happy peace, we trust. After innumerable hardships, privations and dangers, and untold suffering, the South lays down its arms and submits to the authority of the Government. They left the Union great and prosperous—they return devastated and humbled. Let us trust the lesson will not be lost on the South or North, that bad men will hereafter be restrained through fear from attempting the overthrow of the Government, and the people be less ready to listen to their teachings. The war developed our resources, and we are to day a greater and better people, and our government more stable and enduring. To the loyal people of the land, to fearless patriots, wise leaders and brave men, by the honor and to God the glory of our national salvation.

Capture and Death of Booth.

The death of the assassin, traitor and felon will fill every loyal heart with joy. We at first felt grieved that he had not been taken alive and hung as a murderer, but reflection satisfies us that it is best as it is. He suffered all the agonies of mind that man could suffer, and all the pain that could be inflicted. We could not have tortured him as they did such felons of old, and therefore he has suffered all our vengeance could inflict—death. After days of anxiety, alternate hope and despair, exposure and suffering, he was at last overtaken, mortally wounded, and died realizing his condition, his crime and his infamy. He achieved an immortality of infamy, and paid the penalty with his life. If there is anything attractive in such a record we fail to see it. Yet he evidently contemplated the deed with feelings of satisfaction. It it fitting also that he should be buried, as he has been, in an unknown spot by strangers, and that no mark will ever reveal the spot of his interment.

Let his name be spoken only in dark places in whispers, or at executions, and men everywhere devotedly pray God never to afflict the world again with such a monster. No man ever before succeeded in so cruelly torturing so many people or so great a nation; and for the sake of humanity we trust no man ever will be permitted to again.

☞ By the recent order of the Secretary of War, stopping Government workshops, discharging clerks, employees, etc., it is estimated the Government expenses will be reduced a million and a half of dollars per day. By the first of July half of the army will be discharged, and one-half the balance before the first of October.—Our expenses will then be reduced below the income, and the Government will soon be enabled to commence paying off its indebtedness instead of increasing it. Those who have friends in the army will soon witness their final return. Paroled and furloughed soldiers, and all who are in hospital, will at once be discharged. We are glad the Secretary of War so promptly issued the order, and are rejoiced that the country will even now permit its execution without endangering our safety and perpetuity as a nation. The sons, brothers, fathers and husbands so long absent from families will soon return home to leave them no more. How many glad hearts and cheerful faces there will be in the land! Let their return be a time of rejoicing, and a day of remembrance for those who fell in the strife.

For the Argus.

State Senate, &c.

Messrs. Editors: Your reference, last week, to the Legislative apportionment of 1864, impels me to ask room for a very brief response. It is true our Senatorial election is deferred a year, and for the coming session we may be represented by one in whose election we in this county had no voice; but this is inevitably the case with some districts at every septennial period, even without any compensating advantage; and this must always occur, unless the districts are held respectively to a permanent territorial arrangement. As one section advances more rapidly than another in population, this is impossible; and hence changes are inevitable, with results often similar to that we now experience. By this operation, it is not long, I think, since we had two Senators for a season, of which you may have some recollection; but it is rather soon to ask a repetition of such a favor. I think our local and general interests will be very safe, as stipulated, in the hands of eighteen Union Senators, to say nothing of the gentleman who is the object of your special commendation.

It is proper to understand the reasons for our association with Washington county. One is general and political—another local, and as I conceive, to our decided advantage. To have thrown off Washington with Greene, would have made two Democratic districts inevitable in the south western corner of the State; and this, under the then proposed arrangement would have given the Union party but one majority in the Senate; and of course the capture or assassination of a single Senator might again enable the opposition to block the wheels of government. Union men were of one mind on the subject, all urging the association as one of imperative duty. It was claimed that a party having some thirty thousand majority in the State, was entitled to eighteen Senators, and a corresponding number in the House of Representatives; and controlling all the branches of the government to accomplish less would have indicated a degree of imbecility entirely unsuited to these times of excitement and public danger. But as Washington is really a Republican county, as repeatedly shown by her votes, the opposition, including one Col. Hopkins, can have no just cause of complaint; and to have again chained her to Greene would have been a visitation upon your friends there which I think you would hesitate to inflict.

But consider the question in a local aspect. In any other association than with Washington, we must enevitably have been placed in a three county district—most probably with Armstrong and Butler—possibly with Lawrence and Butler. We could not again go with Butler alone, as that would reduce the latter county to a single Representative district, which her Senator and ours would in no case permit, and a single Senatorial vote controlled the whole question. The choice to be made was simply between a district of two counties having 17,767 taxables, and one of three counties, with 22,964; and I see no room for hesitation as to what was duty or policy. A half interest in a Senator is certainly much better than a third, worth far more than all it costs to attain it, especially as we have accorded to us full Senatorial equality by a county nearly double ours in population. They might complain, as does Col. Hopkins bitterly, but is not this out of place in our ranks and in our end of the district? I happen to know that this question was submitted to every Beaver county man at or visiting the capitol at the session of 1864, and to many others; and all, without exception, assented to or commended the arrangement as the best for this county that could be made.

I have heard the remark that your district has been reasonably cared for in this apportionment business. See: One county, with less than the ratio of taxables gets one Representative—another county, 2200 below the ratio, gets two Representatives; and these two counties together, 2000 below the Senatorial ratio, got a Senator.—The rule has been for the gain in one branch to compensate for loss in the other; but as ours is all gain in every aspect, it strikes me it is not worth our while to complain. The President's Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The following Proclamation has been issued by President Johnson:

WHEREAS, By my proclamation of the 25th inst., Thursday, the 25th day of next month was recommended as a day for special humiliation and prayer in consequence of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, late President; but,

WHEREAS, My attention has been called to the fact that the day aforesaid is sacred to large numbers of Christians as one of rejoicing for the ascension of the Savior,

Now, therefore, be it known that I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby suggest that the religious services recommended as aforesaid, should be postponed until Thursday, the first day of June.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed—Done at the city of Washington, this, 28th day of April, in the year of our Lord, eighteen hundred and sixty-five, and of the Independence of the United States of America the eighty-ninth.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

W. N. HUNTER, Secretary of State.

Terrible Calamity.

CAIRO, April 28.—The Steamer Sultana, from New Orleans on the evening of the 21st, arrived at Vicksburg with her boilers leaking badly. She remained there thirty hours repairing, taking on 1,996 Federal soldiers and thirty-five officers, lately released from Cahawba and Andersonville prisons.

She arrived at Memphis last evening. After coaling, she left about 2 A. M., and when about seven miles up, she blew up, immediately taking fire, and burnt to the water's edge. Of 2,106 souls on board, not more than 700 have been rescued; 500 were rescued and are now in the hospitals; 200 or 300 uninjured are at the Soldiers' Home. Capt. Mason, of the Sultana, is supposed to be lost.

FOUR O'CLOCK A. M.—The river front of Memphis is covered with soldiers struggling for life, many of them badly scalded. Boats immediately went to their rescue, and are still engaged in picking them up.

Gen. Washburne immediately organized a board of officers to investigate the affair, and they are now at work doing so. No further particulars have been received.

The Rebel Ram "Webb."

MEMPHIS, April 28, via CAIRO, 29.

The Vicksburg Herald Extra, of the 25th, has a dispatch dated off the mouth of Red river, April 23d, stating that at nine oclock that evening the famous rebel ram "Webb" ran out past iron clads there, and descended the Mississippi river with lightning speed. When first discoverd she had no light, emitted no smoke, and appeared like a huge mass. She was fired on from the monitor Manhattan, when she immediately showed signs of life and shot past the Manhattan, who signalled the fleet. The Lafayette started in pursuit. The officers of the Manhattan estimated the speed of the Webb at twenty five miles per hour while passing them.

LATER

CAIRO April 30.

The steamer Mississippi, grom New Orleans, arrived at Memphis, reported that the rebel ram Webb passed New Orleans in open day, at a rapid rate, displaying the stars and stripes, but after passing she hoisted the rebel flag When a few miles above Fort St. Phillip, her condensers got out of order, and she was blown up. As far as known she had inflicted no damage save cutting the telegraph line. A portion of her crew had arrived at New Orleans; the rest had left for parts unknown.

Gen. Johnston's Surrender.

A telegram dated War Department, Washington, April 28th, to Major General Dix, says: A dispatch from Gen. Grant, dated at Raleigh, April 26th, 10 P. M. states, "Johnston surrendered the forces in his command, embracing all from here to Chattahoochie, to General Sherman, on the basis agreed upon between Lee and myself for the Army of Northern Virginia."

E M STANTON, Sec. of War.

EXTENSION OF THE STATE CAPITOL.—The extension of the State Capitol, at Harrisburg, has been commenced and a number of workmen are engaged in dressing stone for the building. The excavation for the cellar is nearly completed, and the erection of the building will be commenced as soon as possible.

BOOTH, THE ASSASSIN, KILLED!

Harold, an Accomplice, Captured!

PARTICULARS, &c., &c.

Special Dispatch to N. Y. Tribune.

WASHINGTON Thursday, April 27.

We have just received from the lips of Sergt. Boston Corbett, of Co. I, 16th New-York Cavalry, the full particulars of his capture of Booth, and the circumstances which compelled him to shoot him.

A detachment of 26 men, under command of Lieutenant Doherty, with two of Colonel Baker's detectives, viz: Lieutenant-Colonel Conger and Lieut Baker, both late of Baker's District of Columbia Cavalry, proceeded to Port Royal in pursuit of Booth and Harrold, they having received trustworthy information of their whereabouts from the negroes, and some confirmatory information from certain paroled Confederate soldiers

They crossed the Rappahannock in a scow ferry-boat at Port Royal on Tuesday night, and had proceeded about three miles beyond that place when they ascertained that Booth was secreted upon the place of Henry Garett. Mr. G. was called out and stated he had been ther, but had been notified by Rebel cavalry that our cavalry were crossing the river and that he must leave and secrete himself. Mr. G. seemed to give all the information he could, and his son, who accompanied the party here, was especially active in helping ferret him out.

He was supposed to have fled to the woods, but upon approaching the the barn he was discovered secreted therein.

When challenged to come out and surrender, he, in a very wild and excited tone, demanded to know who they supposed him to be, and by what authority; desireding to know of what crime he was charged, and evincing the greatest excitement, and talking very incoherently.

The officers demanded that he should come forth and give himself up. He refused to do so, and threatened to shoot who ever should approach. He said he was alone there, but would never surender.

Corbett was stationed at a corner of the barn, where there was a board off, and was exposed to Booth's fire; he expressed a desire to go in and try and secure him, saying he was wiling to venture his life in the encounter, and had much rather go in and attack him, than to stand in his exposed position; but it was so evident that Booth ment to sell his life as dearly as possible, that Lieut. Doherty would not permit him to enter.

The officers then gave Booth five minutes to surrender, or else the barn would be fired. Nearly a half hour was consumed in the perley, however, when fire was set to the barn During the progress of the flames Booth was seen by Corbett, aiming his Spencer carbine at one of the men. Corbett, who is a deeply religious man, says he prayed fervently for Booth, and that God would have mercy upon his upon his soul; and feeling that he was justified in shooting him to prevent the possible loss of the life of another innocent man, approached the crack in the barn, leveled his revolver and fired.

His shot, by a strange coincidence, entered his head in almost precisely the same spot that President Lincoln was shot; the ball, however, passed through and out of upper part of his neck on the opposite side.

Booth instantly fell, and his carbine dropped heavily with him; he was standing at the time supported by a crutch; his body was instantly removed from the burning barn; this was just at daybreak yesterday, and he lived till about 7 o'clock.

In his leather belt which he wore was the "Sic Semper Tyrannis" dirk, he so tragically brandished upon the stage, with clotted blood dried upon its blade. This knife, his carbine and two revolvers, which he also had upon his person, holding one in his left hand at the time of being shot, and while aiming his carbine, were all brough here and exhibited at 2 o'clock this a.m.

Booth's confederate and companion, Harrold, came out of the barn at the first in an excited state of fright and professed contrition, with his arms upraised. He also audibly besought Booth to surrender, without avail however.

Booth, in his forced hauteur shouted out just before Harrold left him, "Here, Captain, is one man who wants to surrender mighty bad." He had but a momemt previous insisted that no one was in the barn with him.

Harrold is pronounced a mean, cowardly boy. He says he wished Wilkes Booth had been dead before he had ever see him, and then remarked, with silly tone and action, "He always liked Mr. Lincoln, and was very fond of his jokes."

Harold has been brought to the city and confined as are the others prisoners.

Booth, before he died, was apparently rational, but talked at random and contradicted himself as he had done throughout, and he said: "Tell my mother I died for my country. You, gentlemen, have spoiled my fun in Mexico." He seemed conscious of death, but died as frivolously and hardened as he had lived.

His body was fully identified by his initials on his hand in India ink, his memorandum books and other papers, and by the personal recognition before and after death of the detective officers who knew him.

He had his mustache shaved off, and had a uniform beard of four or five days.

He wore a gray woolen shirt; had on dark cassimere pants; one cavalry or theater, top boot, which drew up above the knees, but was turned down when captured. On the other foot he had an old shoe. His leg was bandaged where it was broken.

Harrold says by his spur catching in the flag fastooning the President's box, and tripping in his leap upon the stage. He suffered excruciating pain from this wound, the splintered end of the bone piercing the flesh.

Harrold says Booth had a third revolver, which was burned in the barn. Booth's general appearance was rough and untidy, strikingly in contrast with the halarious fop of others days. Corbett, who is a young man of Cromwellian faith, says he was anxious to be permitted to go in and encounter him, although he supposed his life would have been the forfeit; yet he was of the opinion that at the moment Booth had engaged him the others could have sprang upon him and secured him alive. He says he would willingly have given up his own life if thereby the cause of justice could have been better subserved. When he fired upon him, it was his hope to effectually disable him and not kill him, but his ball struck higher than he intended. He knew, however from his threats, that he would either kill himself or some one else if he were not totally disabled.

Booth wanted to know where they would take him if he would give up. He was informed by the detestives that he must make an unconditional surrender.

He is said to have showered imprecation upon his confederates, who he said had promised to stand by him, but had all deserted him.

He was brought to the house of Mr. Garrett by a Confederate Captain, who told Mr. Garrett that he was a Marylander who was endeavoring to make his way to Johnston's army.

Several small squads of Rebel cavalry were seen hovering about and were no doubt attempting to cover his escape.

To the loyal negroes are our officers indebted for the trace which led to Booth's capture. It is said conclusive evidence is adduced showing the whole plot to have originated in the order called "Knights of the Golden Circle."

Boston Corbett, the hero of the above narration, was born in London, but was brought to New-York by his father at eight years of age. He subsequently went to Boston, were he was converted, and was baptized a member of the Methodist Church. He says, at that time, desiring to lead a new life, he changed his former given name, and was baptized "Boston." His subsequent residence has been New-York, where he enlisted into the 16th Cavalry.

He is as modest as he is devoted, and his Lieutenant pronounced him a most worthy soldier. He was offered one of Booth's pistols by the detective as a memento of the occasion, but he declined it, saying he desired no reminder of the sad duty he had performed, and desired to have it banished from his mind as soon as possible.

He was to day offered here $100 for his own pistol, with which he had killed Booth, but he instantly replied, "That is not mine—it belongs to Government, and I would not sell it for any price."

Being spoken to about the large reward he replied he desired no reward for having done what God made manifest to him, in answer to prayer, was his duty to do. He remarked, however, that if the Government wished to reward him, and would allow him to keep his little horse when his term of service was over, it would be all he could wish. "He isn't very valuable, he said "but Ive got so attached to him that I would like to take him home." He was assured by the gentlemen present that Secretary Stanton would cause an order to be issued for that horse to be turned over to him.

It is mentioned as a coincident circumstance, that Corbett attended McKendree chapel, in this city, last Sunday night, at which he related his interesting experience as a man, soldier and Christian, closing with a very fervent and appropriate prayer, in which the then public burden engrossed his mind. He prayed with especial fervor that the guilty, fleeing peretrators of the foul crime against humanity and the nation might be speedly overtaken and brought to justice, little dreaming then that he was to be the instrument, under Providence, for the answer of his own prayer.

THE BEAVER ARGUS

MAY 3d, 1865.

LOCAL and MISCELLANEOUS

NOTICE.

ALL persons knowing themselves indebted to me for subscription to the Beaver Argus, prior to Jan. 1st, 1865, will please call and pay up at once if they wish to save cost. Joseph M'Clure is authorized to receive and receipt for the same. D. L. IMBRIE.

New Advertisements.

We direct the attention of our readers to the following new advertisements:

County Treasurer's notice to tax payers.

Orphans' Court Sale; estate of S. Marker, dec'd.

Smith's Ferry and Little Beaver Petroleum Company.

Hamilton M'Kenzie offers valuable real e tate for sale.

Auditor's notice; estate of Jackson Whisler, dec'd.

Orphan's Court Sale; estate of D. W. Horner, dec'd.

Normal Musical Class.

A. C. Hurst offers a reward of $100 for arrest of thief, etc.

Executor's notice; estate of Clement Ehrman, dec'd.

☞ To CANDIDATES—We have already received the names of several gentlemen for announcement as candidates for nomination before the Union Convention shortly to meet in this county. For the benefit of others who may desire to be announced, we mention that our rates are for announcement for Assembly or Treasurer, $5; District Attorney or Commissioner, $3; Coronor or Auditor, $2; Poor House Director, $1. The money must in every case accompany the card for announcement.

☞ We are under obligations to Col. J. W. Forney, Secretary Senate of the United States, for valuable public documents.

Also to J. R. Imbrie, for New York papers, and some unknown friend for a copy of the first daily issued in Raleigh after its occupation by our troops.

☞ We announced last week that Chamberlin White, of Beaver County, was married April 20th, to Miss Martha Crawford, of Lawrence county—The lady's name was Miss Martha Bowers, of New Castle. The mistake did not originate with us.

BE CAREFUL.—An exchange states that there is more danger attending the blowing out of kerosene lamps from the top than many people suppose. Several instances are recorded in which lives have been lost, or severe and permanent bodily injury inflicted, by the explosion of lamps from this practice. The following explanation of the causes producing such explosions are well worth heeding:

1st. The oil in the lamp is generally low, leaving more room for gas.

2d. The gas is very inflammable, and will always explode when ignited.

3. In blowing the blaze down, it is liable to ignite the gas.

☞ By a recent act of Assembly the terms of Court in this county commence on the third Monday of March, first Monday of June, first Monday of September, and second Monday of November.

☞ In obedience to the order of the Secretary of War, Provost Marshals are discharging their employees, and Provost Marshal's offices are deserted. This is a happy state of affairs. Drafts and rumors of drafts alarm the timid no more. We presume that by the first of June all Provost Marshals, Commissioners, and Surgeons of the Boards of Enrollment will be discharged, and civilians will be no longer responsible to military law. Captain Cuthbertson, with commendable promptitude, at once discharged all clerks, &c., in his employ, not actually necessary in closing up the business of the office.

☞ We call the attention of Teachers of Vocal and Instrumental music, and all desiring to cultivate the voice and acquire a knowledge of Harmony and Musical Composition, to the advertisement of the Normal Musical Class, in Beaver. Prof. Johnson is one of our very best composers, is the author of a superior work on Thorough Base, and is most skillful in imparting his knowledge.

This strikes us as the true way to get a knowledge of the science of music, to give it the whole attention.—We are willing to believe that a person will learn more of this science, and secure a higher degree of cultivation for the voice in four weeks in this way than in attending singing schools a life time.

Obituary

On the 16th of April, was conveyed to its final resting place, the remains of Mr. JACOB J. LYON, a soldier of the 100th Reg't, P. V. V. He was killed March 25th, during an engagement with the enemy in front of Petersburg, while nobly doing his duty.—The deceased was in the 25th year of his age. He, truly, has fallen for his country. When the dark cloud of Rebellion burst over our country he was one among the first to respond to her call. He enlisted and remained in the service until, through hardships and exposure, disease forced itself upon him, when he was honorably discharged. He returned home and there remained until the Spring of 1864, when our country again asked for help. The appeal was too earnest for his loyal heart to resist. He again volunteered and remained in the service until a ball from the enemy pierced his heart. He now lies by the side of his soldier brother, who died from disease contracted in the army. Two heroes lying in the grave side by side. Their parents and friends truly merit the sympathy they will ever receive from the hearts of their grateful countrymen.

Another Soldier gone to rest:
One more among the fallen brave;
The traitor pierced his gallant breast,
We'll plant the Myrtle on his grave.

We share the sorrow and the grief
Of those who mourn the hero slain.
While thinking of his life so brief,
Who could in coldness still remain?

And while we weep our fallen friends,
That sleep beneath the cold damp sod,
We think how soon this frail life ends,
And hope for comfort with our God.

Then let us not with mournful tears,
Disturb the warrior's peaceful rest,
But hope to meet in future years,
In Heaven with the good and blest.

U.S. 7-30 LOAN.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing 7 3-10ths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the

SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN.

These Notes are issued under date of June 15th, 1865, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six pr cent. GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are worth a premium which increases the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, and its exemption from State or municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable in currency semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent	per day on a	$50 note.

10 "	" "	$500 "
20 "	" "	$1000 "
$1 "	" "	$5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions. The interest to 15th June next will be paid in advance. This is now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now in the market. This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within the next four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES

Will immediately relieve, without pain, all disturbances of the periodic discharge, whether arising from relaxation or suppression.—They act like a charm in removing the pains that accompany difficult or immoderate menstruation, and are the only safe and reliable remedy for Flushes, Sick Headache, Pains in the Loins, Back and Sides, Palpitation of the Heart, Nervous Tremors, Hysterics, Spasms, Broken Sleep, and other unpleasant and dangerous effects of an unnatural condition of the sexual functions. In the worst cases of Fluor Albus, or Whites, they effect speedy cure.

Dr. Cheeseman's Female Pills

Have been used OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY. They are offered as the only safe means of renewing interrupted menstruation, but Ladies must bear in mind that there is one condition of the female system in which the Pills cannot be taken, without producing a peculiar result. The condition referred to is pregnancy—the result, miscarriage. Such is the irresistible tendency of the medicine to restore the sexual functions to a normal condition, that even the reproductive power of nature cannot resist it. They cannot do harm in any other way.

Dr. Cheeseman's Female Pills

Are the only medicine that married and single ladies have relied upon for many years, or can rely upon now. Beware of imitations! These Pills form the Finest Preparation ever put forward, with immediate and persistent success.—DON'T BE DECEIVED. Take this advertisement to your Druggist, and tell him that you want the best and most reliable Female Medicine in the world, which is comprised in

Dr. Cheeseman's Female Pills!!

They have received, and are now receiving the sanction of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit Directions with each Box—the price, ONE DOLLAR per box, containing from 50 to 60 pills.

Pills, sent by mail, promptly, by remitting the price to the Proprietors, or any authorized Agent, in current funds. Sold by Druggists generally.

STRENGTH TO THE WEAK! OUTH TO THE AGED!

This preparation is unequalled as a Rejuvenator and Restorer of wasted or inert functions.

The aged should be certain to make the Biokrene a household god, inasmuch as it will render them youthful in feeling and in strength, and enable them to live over again the days of their pristine joy. It not only exhilarates but strengthens, and is really an invaluable blessing, especially to those who have been reduced to a condition of servility, self abuse, misfortune, or ordinary sickness. No matter what the cause of the impotency of any human organ, this superb preparation will remove the effect at once and forever.

Biokrene

Cures Impotency, General Debility, Nervous Incapacity, Dyspepsia, Depression, Loss of Appetite, Low Spirits, weakness of the Organs of Generation, Imbecility, Mental Indolence, Emaciation, Ennui. It has a most delightful, desirable and novel effect upon the nervous system; and all who are in any way prostrated by nervous disabilities are earnestly advised to seek a cure in this most excellent and unequalled preparation.

Persons who, by imprudence, have lost their natural vigor, will find a speedy and permanent cure in the Biokrene.

The Feeble, the Languid, the Dispairing, the Old should give this valuable discovery a trial; it will be found totally different from all other articles for the same purposes.

TO FEMALES.—This preparation is invaluable in nervous weakness of all kinds, as it will restore the wasted strength with wonderful permanence.

It is also a grand tonic, and will give relief to Dyspepsia with the first dose. A brief persistence in its use will renovate the stomach to a degree of perfect health and banish Dyspepsia forever.

One dollar per Bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by Druggist generally.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

FOR THE SPEEDY AND PERMANENT CURE OF

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases

From Emery Eden, a well-known merchant of Galena, Illinois.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never yet one bottle which failed to effect as radical a cure as I could wish in the worst cases. In fact as our people try it, they prefer it to any and all other blood medicine like it before in our community.

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public when I add my testimony to that you publish of the Medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and esteemed lady of Deantsville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the well-known firm of Gage, Herring & Co., manufacturers of fine-tinted papers in Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as my body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Sawin, Houston St., New York.

"Dr. AYER:—I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. S. Johnston, Esq., Wakeman, Ohio.

"For twelve years I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Stelzler, Esq., the able editor of the Tunkhannock Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"One only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had no hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the lotion of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood pronounced that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

From Dr. Hiram Stout, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"Dr. AYER:—My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL.

Published Daily by
The Pittsburgh Newspaper and Printing Company.

One of the Largest and Most Widely Circulated Papers in the State. Gives the Earliest and Fullest Intelligence.

Prospectus for the New Year.

On assuming control of the Commercial, at the commencement of the year, the conductors announced their DETERMINATION to infuse a new life and vigor into its columns which should render the paper MORE THAN EVER ACCEPTABLE TO THE READER.

The Rapid Increase in Circulation, flattering notices of our contemporaries, and Congratulatory Letters from every quarter, assure us that our efforts have not been unsuccessful.

The Commercial HAS GROWN DAILY in public favor until it now ranks among the LEADING JOURNALS in the country.

In order to keep pace with the demands of the reading public, and at the same time meet the increasing pressure on our advertising columns, we some months since INCREASED THE DIMENSIONS OF THE PAPER TO THE EXTENT OF FOUR COLUMNS.

Among the leading features are full & reliable
TELEGRAPHIC REPORTS; from all the leading points of interest. It devotes special attention to MARKET REPORTS,
including the IRON, OIL, CATTLE, LUMBER, TOBACCO, and the PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKETS. Our RIVER NEWS,
receives particular attention, and in this Department the Commercial has no rival. The FINANCIAL AND STOCK REPORTS, of the Commercial are prepared with care and will be found to be unusually full and reliable. Also, the Reports of the LEADING MARKETS OF THE COUNTRY,
embracing reports of the DRY GOODS and WHOLESALE MARKETS, and Special Reports of OIL STOCK FINANCE AND TRADE, from day to day.

While special attention will be given to these several Departments, the Commercial lays claim to rank among the leading journals of the country as a medium of
GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Its aim is to give none but healthy reading suited to the FAMILY CIRCLE; and to be a welcome visitor to the discriminating public.

THE PULPIT

forms a peculiar feature of the Commercial. By giving every Saturday an ORIGINAL SERMON, prepared expressly by a Minister of the Gospel, in Pittsburgh or vicinity, (which, also, goes into the weekly,) fifty-two discourses are given in the year, by not less than twenty or thirty different Ministers, without regard to denominational distinction. This Department of the Commercial has attracted much attention; and arrangements are being made to increase its recognized importance and value. As a feature at once novel and instructive, it constitutes not the least of the many claims of the Commercial to patronage.

In politics the Commercial will be an undeviating supporter of the Union, and earnestly loyal to the Government, and as far as consistent with this aim, free from Partizanship.

The Commercial is a large folio sheet, and is published in two editions every morning, Sunday excepted.

TERMS OF DAILY: by mail, $10 per annum; City subscribers served by carriers, $13 per annum, in advance, or, 25 cents per week, payable to the carrier. Single copies 5 cents. A discount made to Agents.

THE SATURDAY COMMERCIAL—A large sheet, containing all the Current News, Miscellaneous, Literary, and Scientific Intelligence, and Valuable Reading for the Family, is published at $1,50, (52 issues,) per year. In Clubs of Twenty, $1.

The Money for Weekly and Daily must always accompany the order and in no instance can these terms be deviated from.

☞ Postmasters are requested to act as agents for the Commercial.

NEW BRIGHTON RETREAT

AN ASYLUM FOR THE RECEPTION, CURE AND TREATMENT OF MENTAL ALIENATION OR DISORDER

And Other

Nervous and Chronic Diseases.

EXCLUSIVELY FOR FEMALES.

THIS institution is now open for the reception, care, and treatment of the independent class of patients who are laboring under mental derangement; or other nervous and chronic disease. We make special mention of nervous and chronic diseases, from the fact that seven tenths of the female patients that are committed to our public Asylums, to be treated for disordered minds, are reduced to that lamentable condition through previous physical disorder. By a well timed and judicious treatment of chronic and nervous diseases, all physical disorders, in the majority of cases may be removed; and thus the mind, having suffered through the medium of the body will when free from the exciting physical cause, throw off the shackles that has bound it to worse than midnight darkness, and reason will, once more, resume its sway, clothed in all its primitive beauty and wonted excellence. Hence the necessity of all those, who are laboring under the predisposing or exciting causes, calculated in the end to impair the mind to resort to an early and judicious course of remedial agents.

The Institution is a large brick building with a stone basement—four stories high and well ventilated. It is situated on an elevated table land which commands a view of entire town—adjacent hills—groves and neighboring streams; all of which are calculated to produce favorable impressions upon the disordered mind.

The Institution is complete in all of its appointments. Having been tastefully fitted up at great expense, in order that it may meet the approbation and views of the most fastidious.

The water closets and bathing apparatus have been gotten up upon the most approved modern scientific principles. This department embraces not only the ordinary baths but, also, the medicated, warm air and ascending and descending douche for the more effectual and successful treatment of cutaneous and other scrofulous diseases.

We beg leave to say to all those who may be disposed to commit the interests of a dear wife, sister or daughter, to our charge—may be assured that no means will be spared or efforts wanting on our part to ameliorate their condition or to effect a restoration to their accustomed health and vigor of mind.

For further particulars send for a circular. All communications should be addressed to.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES OF THE BRAVE SOLDIERS AND SAILROS, HOLLOWAY'S PILLS And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with those Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS

Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly a produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE.

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES,

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

BRITISH PERIODICALS, VIZ.

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative.)
THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Radical.)
THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free-Church.)
AND
BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory.)

The American Publishers continue to reprint the above-named periodicals, but as the cost of printing has doubled, the price of paper nearly trebled, and taxes, duties, licenses, etc., largely increased, they are compelled to advance their terms as follows:

TERMS FOR 1865.

For any one of the Reviews—	$4,00
For any two of the Reviews	7,00
For any three of the Reviews	10,00
For all four of the Reviews	12,00
For Blackwood's Magazine	4,00
For Blackwood and one Review	7,00
For Blackwood and any two Reviews	10,00
For Brackwood and three Reviews	13,00
For Blackwood and the four Reviews	15,00

The works will be printed on a greatly improved quality of paper, and while nearly all American Periodicals are either advanced in price or reduced in size—and very generally both—we shall continue to give faithful copies of all the matters contained in the original editions. Hence, our present prices will be found as cheap, for the amount of matter furnished, as those of any of the competing periodicals in this country.

Compared with the cost of the originals editions, which at the present premium on gold would be about $100 a year, our prices ($15) are exceedingly low. Add to this the fact that we make our annual payments to the British Publishers for early sheets and copyright in Gold—$1 costing us at this time (Jan. 1865) nearly $2,50 in currency—and we trust that in the scale we have adopted we shall be entirely justified by our subscribers and the reading public.

The interest of these Periodicals to American readers is rather increased than diminished by the articles they contain on our Civil War, and though sometimes tinged with prejudice, they may still, considering their great abilility and the different stand-points from which they are written, be read and studied with advantage by the people of this country, of every creed and party.

THE FOUR REVIEWS for 1863.

A few copies of the above remain on hand, and will be sold at $5 for the whole four, or $2 for any one.

We also publish the

Dr. Hurd's MOUTH WASH, TOOTH POWDER and TOOTHACHE DROPS cannot be sent by mail, but they can probably be obtained at your Drug or Periodical Stores. If they cannot, send to us for the DENTAL TREASURY, Price, ONE DOLLAR, which contains them.

NOW.

Are Dr. Hurd's Preparations Good?

The best evidences that they are is, that their firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. Wm. B. Hurd is an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizen of Brooklyn or Williamsburg questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as the best known to the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.

The Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Times says: "We are happy to know that our friend, Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all expectations with his MOUTH WASH and TOOTH POWDER. The great secret of his success rests with the fact that his articles are precisely what they are represented to be, as we can testify from their long use."

The well known P. T. Barnum writes: "I found your TOOTH POWDER so good that my family have used it all up. We find it the best powder for the teeth we have ever used. I shall feel obliged if you will send me another supply at the Museum at your convenience, with bill."

But their cost is so small that every one may test the matter for himself.

☞ Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Pooder contains no acids, nor alkali, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamel. Use no other.

WHAT WILL DR. HURD'S REMEDIES EFFECT?

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young ladies that finest charm in woman—a sweet breath and pearly teeth. Try them, ladies.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will cleanse the mouth from all foul exhalations, and if used in the morning, will make the breakfast taste sweeter and the day begin more pleasantly. Hundreds of persons can testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder are the the best preparations in the world for curing bad breath and giving firmness and health to the gums. Hundreds of cases of Diseased Bleeding Gums, Sore Mouth, Canker, etc., have been cured by Dr. Hurd's astringent wash.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder give an additional charm to courtship, and make husbands more agreeable to their wives and wives to their husbands. They should be used by every person having which are liable to impart a taint to the mouth

Dr. Hurd's Toothache Droops cure Toothache arising from exposed nerves, and are the best friends that parents can have in the house to save their children from torture and themselves from loss of sleep and sympathetic suffering.

Farmers and mechanics! you cannot well afford to neglect your teeth. For a trifling sume you can now get preservatives, than which Rothschild or Astor can get nothing better. Remember that Dyspepsia and Consumption of the Lungs often originate in neglect of Teeth. Send for the Treatise on Teeth, and read Dr. Fitch's observations on this subject. If too late to arrest decay in your own teeth, save your children's teeth.

NEURALGIA PLASTERS.—Dr. Hurd's Neuralgia Non-Adhesive Plasters are the most pleasant and successful remedies ever prescried for this painful disease. The patient applies one, soon becomes drowsy, falls asleep, and awakes free from pain, and no blister or other unpleasant or injurious consequences ensue. For Earache and Nervous Headache, apply according to directions, and relief will surely follow. Nothing can be obtained equal to Dr. Hurd's Compress for Neuralgia. Try them. They are entirely a novel, curious and original preparation, and wonderfully successful. They are of two sizes, one small, for the face, price 15 cents, and the other large, for application to the body, price 37 cents. Will be mailed on receipt of price and one stamp.

WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE DING?

The American people are intelligent enough to appreciate preparations that contribute so much to happiness of those using them, and they wont them. Every mail brings us letters, some ordering the Treatise on Teeth, some the Neuralgia Plasters, and not a few enclosing 37 cts. for the Mouth Wash, to be sent by mail; but to these we are compelled to reply that it is impossible to send a half-pint bottle by mail. The people want these Remedies. Who will supply them?

Now is the CHANCE FOR AGENTS.

Shrewd agents can make a small fortune in carrying these articles around to families. The Dental Treasury is the neatest article that a man or woman can carry around. Send for one and see, or, better, a dozen, which we will sell, as samples, for $7. Agents supplied liberally with circulars. ☞ Now is the time to go into the business; to do good, and make a profit. We are spending thousands for the benefit of agents. New England men or women! here is something nice, and a chance to take the tide at its flood. Address,

WM. B. HURD & CO.,
Tribune Buildings, New York.

That remittances may be made with confidence, W. B. H. & Co., refer to the Mayor of Brooklyn; to G. W. Griffith, President Farmers' and Citizens Bank, Brooklyn; to Joy, Coe, & Co., New York; to P. T. Barnum, Esq., New York, etc., etc.

WHEELER & WILSON'S SEWING MACHINES.

The Best, Most Reliable Sewing Machine Now in Use.

These Machines make the lock-stich alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silks that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do. It will Stitch, Hem, Fell, Quilt, Tuck, Plait, Gather, Cord, Braid, etc., all without previous basting; and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family; or they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect; or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, without changing the feed needle or tension, or making any adjustment of machine whatever!

It has the following advantages over all other machines:

Far greater variety of work; beauty and excellence of stitch; speed and quietness of motion; simplicity of construction; ease and management; elegance of design and finish.

These are peculiar facts, and will go far to determine the choice of an intelligent buyer.

CRITTENDEN'S PHILADELPHIA COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

N. E. corner of 7th & Chestnut St.,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

THIS Institution, which was established in 1844, and is now consequently in the eighteenth year of its existence, numbers among its graduates, hundreds of the most successful Merchants and Business Men of our Country.

The object of the Institution is solely to afford young men facilities for thorough preparation for business.

The branches taught are, Book-keeping, as applicable to the various departments of trade; Penmanship, both plain and ornamental; Commercial Law, mathematics, Navigation, Civil Engineering, Drawing, Phonography, and Modern Languages.

The system of Instruction is peculiar; no classes or set lessons are made use of, but each student is taught individually, so that he may commence at any time, and attend at whatever hours are most convenient.

Catalogues are issued annually after the 15th of April, containing names of the students for the year, and full particulars of terms, &c., and may be obtained at any time by addressing the Principal.

In extensive accommodations, wide-spread reputation, and the lengthy experience of the Principal, this Institution offers facilities superior to any other in the country, for young men wishing to prepare for business, and to obtain at the same time A DIPLOMA, which will prove a recommendation for them to any Mercantile House.

☞ CRITTENDEN'S Series of Treatises on Book-Keeping, now more widely circulated than any other work on the subject, are for sale at the College.

BOSS BROTHER, & Co's. Extra Chemical Writing Fluid, the best in the world at the Bridgewater Drug Store. Try it and be convinced. Manufactured by the American Ink Company.

WASHER, WRINGER and STARCHER Combined! Silver and Bronze Medals, Diplomas, Certificates, Premiums, and Testimonials, have been received from various sources, both Public and Private.

Self-Adjusting and Adjustable! The only Wringer with the Patent Cog-Wheel Regulator, for turning both rolls together and which positively prevents the rolls from breaking or twisting on the shaft. It is not only a perfect Wringer, but the Cog-wheels give it a power which renders it a most Excellent Washer pressing and separating, as it does, the dirt with the water from the clothes, leaving them dryer, whiter, and smoother than when "wrung" by hand. The water can be pressed from large and small articles, easier, quicker, and more thoroughly than by the ordinary, old-fashioned back-breaking, wrist-straining, and clothes destroying process.—The Cog-wheels prevent all "wear and tear" of clothes by the friction of the rolls or breaking of stitches by twisting.

Without Cog-wheels, the whole strain of forcing the cloth through the Machine is put upon the lower roll, and the cloth is made to act in the place of Cog-wheels, to drive the upper roll, causing a much greater strain upon the lower roll than when Cog-wheels, with our Patent Regulator, are used, besides the extra strain upon the cloth. A Good Canvasser wanted in every town. Liberal inducements offered, and exclusive sale guaranteed.

A Sweet and Perfumed Breath VERSUS A Bad Breath.

What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disgreeable breath, when by using the

BALM OF A 1000 FLOWERS,

it could be secured? How many lovers it had separated! How many friends forever parted! The subject is so Delicate, your nearest friend will not mention it: and you are yourself ignorant of the fact. To effect a radical cure, use the Balm as a tooth-wash night and morning.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL WOMEN of ancient times used honey to beautify their complexion; but the combination with palm oil and other valuable ingredients makes it still more valuable. For bathing suffering infants, a few drops poured into a basin of water will dispel all fever, tetter, &c. A few drops poured on your shaving-brush makes a beautiful soft lather, leaving the face pure and white.

When used for washing night and morning it eradicates all Tan, pimples, and Freckles, rendering the skin soft and white and free from blemish.
